

Victor Molinari, Ph.D., ABPP (Clin)

Victor Molinari PhD, ABPP (Clin) is a Professor in the Department of Aging and Mental Health (AMH) of the Florida Mental Health Institute (FMHI) at the University of South Florida (USF). He serves as co-Principal Investigator and lead clinical reviewer for curriculum for the Department of Elder Affairs contract for “Review and approval of Alzheimer’s Disease Training Providers and Training Curriculum Programs.”

Dr. Molinari received his PhD from Memphis State University in 1979 and spent over 17 years with the Houston VAMC as the director of geropsychology before joining USF. He currently serves as a member of APA’s Committee on Aging. He is the past national coordinator for the Psychologists in Long Term Care (PLTC) and past president of the American Psychological Association’s Division 12, Section 2 (Clinical Geropsychology). He is a fellow of APA’s Division 12 (Clinical Psychology) and of the Behavioral and Social Sciences section of The Gerontological Society of America. He was the major preceptor for a federally funded joint USF/Tampa VA geropsychology post-doctoral fellowship program, and is a member of the training committee of FMHI’s APA-approved psychology internship program. His major research interests include dementia care, mental health outcomes research in long term care, serious mental illness in older adults, reminiscence therapy, and personality disorder in older adults.
